Alternative 1. Targeting to Need Nonentitlement Alternative 1 likewise tweaks the existing formula by fixing the problems in Formulas A and B that lead to large inequities in funding among grantees within each individual formula. This alternative undertakes the following changes: Formula A o Reduce the weight on population from 25 percent to 10 percent and increase the weight on poverty to 65 percent. This change increases the funding for the more needy Formula A grantees while decreasing funding for the less needy as measured by the needs index. o Change the definition of poverty to persons living in family households or elderly headed households living in poverty to correct for the relative...
